Dear Mike,
I could write a book about our many arguments but of course you know what I'd say. Anyway, it's always interesting & was made all the more so by your friendship. Best of luck in all of your endeavors!
Yours,
Larry

P.S. I'll still put my contribution to the Crusade in the mail.

Mike,
We've been in the same class for the last 12 years, except 1, but I have enjoyed your friendship in all of them. Just one more year and we're through.
Good luck.

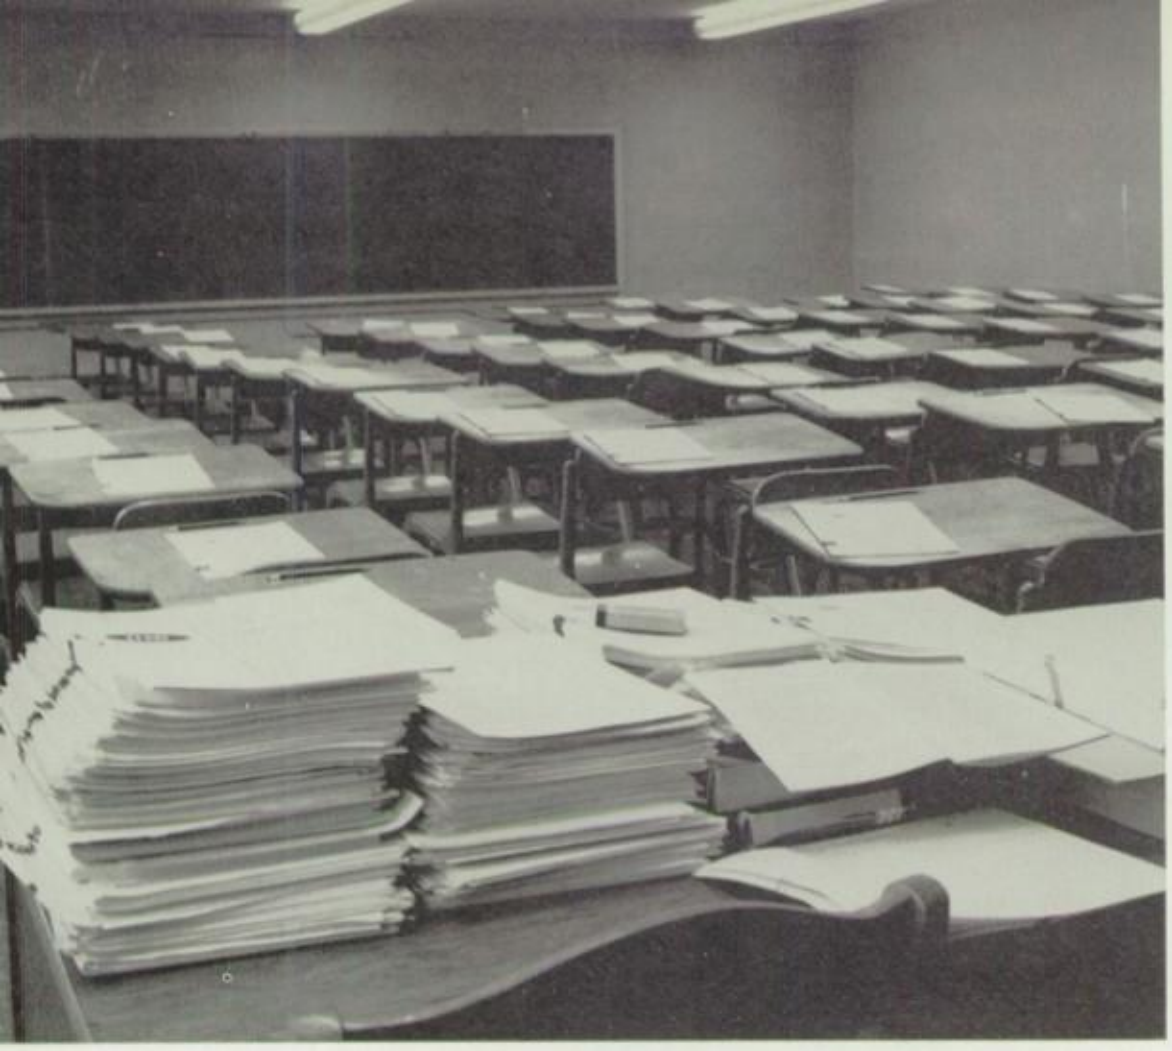
New Experiences Greet Students At BPC

As another school year began the students found many activities and exciting experiences awaiting them. A visit by four boys from the Philippine Islands was a pleasant surprise to everyone and learning of their way of life was very interesting. The kick-off party and the freshman party were just a few of the activities enjoyed by the students. There were also many challenges to be met as another school year began to unfold.

Everyone enjoys the freshman party, whether dancing or watching.

Anne Evans, Bud Hobbs, Marilyn Walthers, and Alan Crum lead off the bunny-hop at the kick-off party.



The test for the freshmen lay waiting.

Runners begin the cross country race, striving for victory against time and distance.

". . . a body-torturing experience, but above all a stamina and character building process." So SPARTA STAR described B-PC's cross-country program. Many first and second places, and a number of victories qualified 1961 as a successful first year for this program.

Spartans Have Nip And Tuck Season

Nothing can be more heartbreaking for a football team than a season of games lost by one or two points. Such was the Spartan 1961 season—effort and desire marred by ties, narrow losses and a few heartbreakers.

Many men won special recognition: Douglas was a first team All-Conference Center. Sinnett was second team guard, also All-Conference. Hobbs, Worthington, and Armstrong were given honorable mentions.

Homecoming '62 – A Night In Fantasyland

As their court looks on, Anne and Bud are crowned by last year's royalty, Judy Gallehue and John Combites.

Princes And Princesses Honored

After honoring the new King and Queen, eight popular seniors joined them in leading the rest of the kingdom in a royal dance.

Each prince and princess shared in making our kingdom of B-PC the wonderful place that it is. Roger, Wayne, and Diane all worked hard in our outstanding band, and Sharon really led it well as she pranced in front during parades and football games. Sherry and Janet added a lot to the Chorus with their lovely voices. One of the school's fine athletes was Fred Bertolino. Dick McNally was the competent Beta Pi Sigma cameraman. All these people also helped make our annual "Curtaintime" the fine show it was.

This year's Homecoming Court includes Sherry Simmons, Roger Whit
Wayne Haffner, Sharon Zuck, Janet Melvin, Diane Curtis, Fre

Bertolino, and Dick McNally.

King Bud and Queen
Homecoming Fest

Homecoming week was always very hectic but quite exciting at B-PC. This year all worked frantically on their floats from Fantasyland. Then on Thursday night, all turned out for the traditional bonfire and pep rally. After the rally, last-minute touches were added to the floats, with the hope that these touches would mean the difference between a winner or a loser.

On Friday, the floats, King and Queen candidates, and the Band assembled for the annual Homecoming parade. This year the Junior Class again received a prize for its float, Little Bo-Peep. The FFA and Industrial Arts Club were also the recipients of prizes.

Bud Hobbs, athlete and Student Council President, rules over his kingdom as 1962 Homecoming King.

In their robes of red and blue, Anne and Bud make a very royal pair.

That evening the Spartans played a rousing game against Carthage which ended in a 6-6 tie. After the game, students, teachers, and alumni assembled at the Homecoming Dance in the gym. It was decorated as a lovely Fantasyland kingdom with a throne for the new King and Queen of B-PC. The climax of the evening was the crowning of King Bud Hobbs and Queen Anne Evans.

Anne Evans, very active in music, makes a vivacious and lovely Homecoming Queen.

Hear. We've Got The Best Band In The Land

"Left, right, left, right." Debbie Morrow, Alan Crum, and Mike Young lead the Spartan marching band through the main street of Bushnell in the annual Homecoming Parade.

The music department is one of the most active organizations at B-PC. In the fall, practice and cooperation combined to make our marching band the fine band that it was. The half-time performance for the Homecoming game was spectacular with the formations revolving around the theme "Fantasyland." In the winter, the Pep Band provided entertainment at the basketball games. Long hours were spent practicing to make the spring show a big success. Band plays a big part in the lives of many students. There is contest to be prepared. Then, there was the mad rush at graduation when the band again displayed its talent. But activities do not end here, for the band practices diligently during the summer preparing for the coming year.

"Blackie" (Moe Armstrong) and the "Queen Bee" (Marilyn Doll) are making a transaction, and it seems as if things will turn out well for all.

"Pioneer, Go Home!" Is A Senior Class

Mr. and Mrs. Brown (Dale Wright and Kathy Steelman) talk amiably with Pop Kwimper (Roger White) over the situation in Kwimperville.

During rehearsal, Bud Hobbs, Deb Morrow, and P. A. Roark go over their lines so they will be perfect on the big night.

Morristown Kwimper, (Kathleen Murphy) the great poetess, recites one of her wonderful poems as the others try to ignore her.

Pop Kwimper seems to enjoy giving Toby Kwimper (Bud Hobbs) a thorough going-over, while Holly Smith (Anne Evans) watches.

Morristown has caught a fish for dinner; and Toby, Pop, South Orange, and Holly look as if they are very pleased indeed.

Staring off into space, South Orange (Janet Melvin) ponders over her own thoughts.

Success

On November 17, the Seniors made their return as actors in "Pioneer, Go Home!" The play was under the direction of Mrs. Mengwasser, with Pat Scholes as student director. Most of the action takes place at Kwimperville, with some of the scenes at the Bee Hive, the nearby gambling casino.

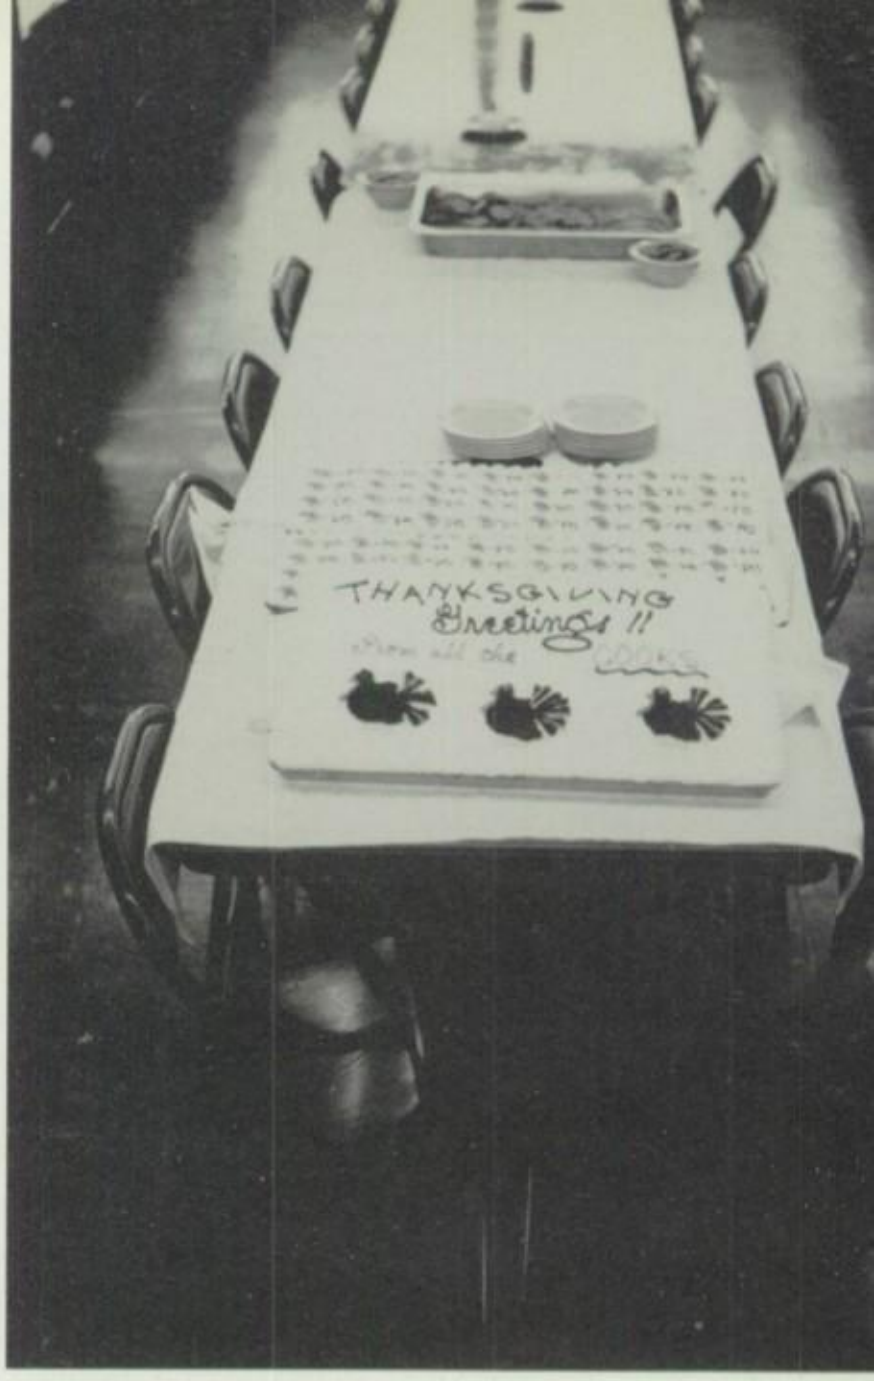
The play is a satirical take-off on the U. S. Government, with Pop Kwimper (Roger White) the old man who knows everything about the government. His son, Toby (Bud Hobbs), is a handsome young giant who is the object of much attention from the opposite sex.

The play begins with the Kwimpers running out of gas along the highway, and settling down on a strip of "Closed to the Public" property. Trouble starts developing fast when Mr. King (Dick McNalley) of the Department of Public Improvements tells them to move out at once. From here, the play becomes more and more complicated, and finally ends with the Kwimpers staying on their piece of land permanently.

Toby gets a good rest as he tells Miss Claypoole (Marilyn Walthers) about the history of the Kwimper family.

Mrs. Armstrong and college preparatory English student, Bud Hobbs, agree that we should be thankful for good books.

For These . . .
We Are Thankful



Red Cratten and the cafeteria staff extend this special Thanksgiving wish to B-PC.

Student Council president, Bud Hobbs, listens intently as Reverend James Mulder enumerates the advantages of living in the United States to the student body in the special Thanksgiving assembly.

Thanksgiving at B-PC exhibited many faces—some lighthearted, others serious. Anticipation of the holiday ahead stimulated a festive atmosphere which was augmented by the extra-special feast prepared by our competent cafeteria staff. A serious assembly presented by Reverend James Mulder of the Bushnell Ministerial Association, renewed our appreciation of the opportunities our ancestors have struggled to give us, and made us determined to preserve them. For all these things, we are thankful.

The fall season is always a rush of activities, but this year many students found a serious shortage of time for even such things as eating and sleeping. Homecoming, with the theme "Fantasyland," brought endless secrets and excitement with plans for gym decorations, class and organization floats, the band's half-time show, and the crowning ceremony. Next the Junior class displayed a tremendous talent for salesmanship as the magazine totals reached an all-time high. The Sophomore English classes studying Julius Caesar were building model Shakespearean theaters, the high-stepping Spartan marching band was reaching its peak, rehearsals for the Senior class play were under way, and the intramural football team was in the midst of a strenuous season. Add to this a full academic program and one can see why few students complain of boredom, and many are contemplating a thirty-six-hour day.

Fall Shots

Classroom in fantasyland? No, this novel group of students made up part of the fairy ballroom for B-PC Homecomers this year.

"Pass the tissues!" yells Peg Melvin as she hurries to finish the skirt for "Alice in Wonderland," the Beta Pi Sigma float.

The annual Junior magazine campaign brought the highest sales ever. Shan Varner and Barb Taylor receive their prizes from Mr. Clutts.

Board Of Education Works Quietly And Diligently To Fulfill The Goals Of Education

We, the students, never see them, but they are always working to give us the best administration, faculty, and facilities possible. The members of the board of education work together to enable students of the present to graduate fully prepared to become worthwhile citizens of the future community.

These members are people of the community from all walks of life. First, we have Gail Haffner and B. A. Spurgeon, who are both farmers. Next, Robert Walton, a banker, and Harlan Hummel, a construction contractor, serve the students through work on the board. The only woman on the board is Mrs. Betty Emory, who is a farmer's wife. John Havens and Ernest Hawkins are two more of our area farmers.

Their job is a very important one as they oversee the policies and administration of the school. The board is to the school as the city council is to the city.

Members of the board of education are Gail Haffner, B. A. Spurgeon, Robert Walton, Harlan Hummel, Betty Emory, John Havens, and Ernest Hawkins.

Mr. Denton White stepped from B-PC principal to superintendent of Unit 170.

Leaving his position as principal, Mr. White stepped into a new role, that of Superintendent of Unit 170. In his office the policies are formulated which govern our unit. He has the responsibility of seeing that our schools are operated with a maximum of efficiency. Mr. White serves as the link between school and board of education. Among his many responsibilities are administration problems, board meetings, visits throughout the unit, and receiving business callers. He is never so busy that he loses the personal touch which makes him close to the students, faculty, and parents.

Mr. White Is The Link Between School And Board Of Education

Mr. White pauses in his busy schedule to examine a bulletin.

Mr. Lawson's job involves a lot of paperwork.

MR. JOHN LAWSON, Principal

Mr. Lawson–Our Guiding Light

As our principal, Mr. Lawson has many responsibilities. Someone is always looking for him or talking over something with him. He has charge of all activities at B-PC, arranging schedules and courses offered, supervising dances and meetings concerning school, and many other varied jobs.

Mrs. Heagy, Mrs. McCance, and Mrs. Haymaker are his able helpers; without whom, he would be lost. They take care of many of the routine things that are quite time-consuming, and leave him free for his more important tasks.

Mrs. Heagy serves B-PC as Mr. Lawson's secretary.

Mrs. McCance and Mrs. Haymaker are two more of the friendly, helpful office workers at school.

Basketball Arrives With The Winter Season

Basketball started early for non-football players this year. Training was tougher for everyone, as Dale Huff, new Spartan cage coach and athletic director, set to work building his squad. He and Assistant Coach Reed began by instituting cross-country, setting a goal of a 12-minute 2-mile run for every member of the squad, and laying down a rigorous set of training rules to govern the team's eating and sleeping habits. Although the team worked hard, they faced the problem of getting accustomed to a new style of play, and it was not until the Holiday Tournament that their work was rewarded. They won a third place trophy following the win over a small, but highly-rated, Carthage five. The club slumped again and lost four straight before entering the County Tournament at Northwestern. Wins over Northwestern and Colchester netted the rapidly-improving Spartans another third place trophy and the applause of many fans who recognized the hustle and precision play displayed by a team many had previously thought to be a pushover. Buoyed by their tournament wins, and gaining confidence in their ability and style of play, the Spartans came on strong for the rest of the season and won a large share of the remaining clashes. The close of the regular basketball season saw B-PC paired against highly-rated Galesburg in the Regional Tournament. In the opinion of many, this was the finest Spartan effort of the year, and it took a last quarter point splurge by the Silver Streaks to knock the team out of State competition.

Coach Reed's Freshman, Sophomore, and combined Fresh-Soph squads gave a good account of themselves all year long and provided Coach Huff with great hopes for the future. During the year, the Fresh-Soph Cadets won the County Tournament, and the Freshman team captured the championship in their annual tournament at Valley. In a postseason, round-robin Tourney at VIT, the separate Freshman and Sophomore clubs each won their division.

Although the won-lost records could be described as only fair, both the Varsity and Underclassmen had successful seasons. The cagers added six new trophys to the school trophycase, treated fans to exciting contests, and gave indication of a bright future.

The final seconds of a game are sometimes vital as Cadet cheerleaders, Karen and Sandy, stay with it to the end.

Appreciate?

Varsity cheerleaders, Deb, Cathy, Caryl, Sally, and Sharon were elected last spring for the 1961-62 season. During the summer practice sessions Sharon was chosen as captain of the squad. In the fall the student body elected Karen, Sandy, Elaine, and Mary Rita as Cadet cheerleaders. Sandy was named captain of the squad. New claps and yells were originated by the squads to reinforce the regular routines which they worked to perfection. This year Coach Mengwasser initiated the Spartanettes—an all girl pep squad which backed the cheerleaders with their vivacious yells.

"Bah! Humbug" Sets Scene For All-School Play

A presentation of one of the age-old classics, Dicken's A CHRISTMAS CAROL, was a major activity during this Christmas season. CHRISTMAS CAROL was the first all-school play presented at B-PC. It was also the first production Miss Alessi had directed at this school.

The "spirit of Christmas present" which was vibrantly captured by the cast during the early rehearsals dimmed slightly as members were hit by a sudden flu epidemic. Replacement followed replacement. Three days before production Scrooge (Dick McNally) fell victim. Mike McCrea, a Dramatic Arts student from Western Illinois U., played the role.

"Now, to obtain the proper shading around the eyes, you take the blue shadow stick and . . ." Our Director, Miss Alessi, instructs the cast in applying their make up as Pat Goddard waits in trepidation.

In one of the preliminary make up sessions, Bill Taylor takes a calm view of the proceedings as Danny experiments with his make up, and Mike Young assists Mike Ebben.

Mission girls (Pat Smith, Diana McCance, and Dana McCance) try to convince Scrooge that it is his obligation to give to the poor on Christmas.

The Ghost of Christmas Present (Evelyn Davis) takes Scrooge (Mike McCrea) to the home of his nephew and niece, Fred (Mike Armstrong) and Mrs. Fred (Cindy Strode).

One of "dear old Fezziwig's" parties is witnessed by Scrooge (Mike McCrea) and the Ghost of Christmas Past (Janet Melvin).

"There is yet one more scene, read." The Ghost of Christmas Future (Erma Brush) commands Scrooge to read his name on the tombstone.

The Cratchit family, Tiny Tim (Bill Taylor), Bob (Rob Roark), Martha (Karma Havens), Peter (Walter Heagy), Belinda (Becky Bollinger), Mrs. Cratchit (Kathleen Murphy) drink to the health of Mr. Scrooge.

Singers Present "Babe of Bethlehem"

Carrying lighted candles and humming "Silent Night," the members of the music department proceeded down the aisles of the auditorium to present the annual Christmas Cantata. This year the combined choruses, led by Mr. Garinger, enthralled the audience by presenting "The Babe of Bethlehem." Through intense practice and sincereness, the mass chorus was able to emphasize the sacredness of Christmas.

Industrial Arts Club Aids Good Neighbors

This year the Industrial Arts Club planned and enacted a very successful season to add to the record. A very worthwhile and rewarding project was that of reconditioning toys donated by students. The toys helped fill the stockings of needy children in the area at Christmas time.

The FHA Serves The Community During The Year

FHAers engage in various activities that serve their community and school. In the Fall, Hobo Day is held. During the Christmas season groups of Future Homemakers take cookies and candy to the nursing homes. Other members serve B-PC as hall hostesses. The FHA also sponsors the annual Sweetheart Dance.

The sophomore class, headed by a fine slate of officers, had both an active and a successful year. They got off to an enthusiastic start by planning the Homecoming dance and decorating for it. Members of the class participated in all the dances and other activities. They also sponsored the Saint Patrick's Day Dance which was a big success. These underclassmen did not stop once to rest as they launched into campaigns for student council elections. Dave Bertolino was elected as 1962-63 student council vice-president. At the close of the year, they served as waiters at the Junior-Senior Prom.

Students Study Wonders Of Science

Science Club was formed to make advanced scientific training and group participation available to the scientifically-minded student. This year's students advanced their knowledge through lectures on cosmic theory, anesthesiology, genetics, and radiation. Sally Robinson's club-sponsored genetics course at Western Illinois University and Fred Smith's electronics work were contributions made by two individual members.

They typed up tests, term papers, and did mimeographing. They also printed the programs for the basketball and football games. The end of the year was highlighted by a trip to Galesburg to a business school.

Unsung Heroes Keep The School Running Smoothly

Though their jobs are extensive, janitors Floyd Fitch, Roland Runkle, and Gordon McGraw (not pictured) perform them carefully and efficiently.

Performing beyond the call of duty, the bus drivers traveled over 125,000 miles this year taking students to and from school, to games, and to many other activities.

The cooks prepared and served over 27,000 meals this year—proving that an "army" of students does need food for thought.

Assemblies Are Spice Of Life For Students

Variety and quality were the two main ingredients in the winter assembly program. The Latin American countries were introduced to the students by a missionary. After the assembly the students were invited to see the display of handicraft and were given the opportunity to make purchases if they wished. The proceeds went to a medical fund. Student participation in the liquid oxygen assembly added to its interest. Another of the assemblies that caught and held rapt attention was the Fire Prevention Assembly. These and many others made a portion of the fine assembly program.

Student Council means service. Elected by their classes or their organizations, the Student Council representatives lived up to this organizational aim in many ways. Beginning with the September Kick-Off Party, Student Council planned dances and parties. In addition, they sponsored the class elections, cheerleading elections, the March of Dimes campaign, County Tournament King and Queen, and the assembly programs. They had a week set aside as Student Council Week, during which they had a beatnik day, a dress up day, a student administration day, a locker clean up day and a be kind to teachers, "Brownie Point," day.

Dig that crazy poetry! Students come dressed true to form on beatnik day.

The dark of the auditorium surrounds the proscenium arch during production.

Unlike most trite—girl grows up, meets boy, falls in love, breaks up, makes up at the last minute; "Seventeenth Summer" displayed with originality the warmth, humor, and sadness of one girl's seventeenth summer.

A great deal of the play's success was due to the excellent casting done by the director, Mrs. Mengwasser.

Angie, the young girl who grew up, was competently played by Lana Clary. Other characterizations of special note were Jim Feaster's portrayal of the "I can do no wrong" Martin; and Diane Spurgeon as the Mother getting her daughter ready for college, and nearly forgetting that her daughter had grown up; Gaye Mikesell and Kathleen Ewing as Angie's "practically best friends" who were almost too horrible to be true.

The play was sprinkled with the scene-stealing antics of Evelyn Davis as Angie's younger bicycle loving sister, and Bill Marzahn, the father, who seemed to be eternally looking for something that had, with Kitty's help, just disappeared.

Provide News, Memories

1961-62 put the Sparta Star and the Beta Pi Sigma in the hands of a special journalism class. These thirteen seniors got their first smell of printers' ink in trips to the local newspaper, and courses in journalism history and technique. Each issue of the Sparta Star was in the hands of an individual journalism student, who thus received an intensive course in layout, headline writing, and composition. The editorship of the Beta Pi Sigma rested on the shoulders of Kathleen Murphy and Jane Smith who relied on the able assistance of the journalism class and other creative seniors.

The club donates its time to the cleaning, operating, and maintenance of the equipment, plus helping the B-PC March of Dimes Candidates every year. The machines they help to operate are the movie projector, film strip machine, tape recorder, and record player.

Service Highlights Varsity Club Year

The Varsity Club consists of all boys who have acquired a letter in some sport during their four years in school. The basketball rack, which holds 28 balls; the leg-press machine; the pennants in the gym; and the whirl pool were donated by the boys from money earned at concession stands at football and basketball games, and paper drives. As their final activity of the year, they had a picnic.

Girls Keep Physically Fit With G.A.A.

G.A.A. is an active organization that keeps our girls in good physical condition. Basketball and volleyball are among the various games that were played, along with baseball and whiffelball. Swimming and bowling were the after school activities in which we participated. The main money-making project this year was the magazine sale and the candy sales that were held during the noon hours.

The Windy City Offers Many New, Interesting Sights

Juniors and Seniors along with sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Clutts, returned with fun-filled memories from their 1962 Spring Trip. Our students spent three days and two nights in Chicago. The "Windy City" offered many interesting sights: The Museum of Science and Industry, The Museum of Natural History, the Planetarium, the Merchandise Mart, the Ice Revue at the Boulevard Room of the Conrad Hilton, China Town, the Shubert Theater's production of "The Sound of Music," Lincoln Park Zoo, and O'Hare Airfield.

"And how are you enjoying the monkeys here at Lincoln Park Zoo?" ask Danny Webb, Benny Cheek, and Mike Emory of Judy Wheeler.

Mr. Clutts checks his watch as the students scurry up the steps to the museum of Natural History.

Despite a brisk wind, Judy Wheeler, Danny Webb, and Mr. and Mrs. Clutts were fascinated by the observations deck view of the activity at O'Hare Airfield.

This year the Spring Show centered around two bums and a musical tour of the United States. It got off to a roaring start as Hector Rancid, Jr. (Moe Armstrong) and Professor Leopold (Roger White) climbed out of their sewer home in New York City.

From New York they went to Chicago where they picked the pockets of the mixed chorus. The bums were chased out of the "windy city" by the "cops" tap group, and from there Hector and the Professor went to a ski lodge in "Vermont." After leaving, the bums made their way to the mountains where they encountered a group of hillbillies (the boys' chorus) and some "Shanty" dancers. Escaping from there proved to be difficult, but with the help of the dancers, the bums moved on only to run head-on into the Magnolia Finishing School for Proper young ladies where the girls had not seen men for several years.

The girls' chorus and the sextet crooned some love songs, and the kick line added atmosphere to convince the Professor and Hector that they should stay, but the head mistress (Nila Parker) had other ideas. After being chased out by the head mistress, the bums headed for the mid-west, where they found "Bell-Girls" in "Indiana," in the "Small Hotel." They then went to "Idaho" and then strayed into 'Oklahoma."

All this time a poor soul (Paul Murphy) had been chasing Hector and the Professor to tell them that "Their friends and neighbors" had selected them for the draft! At this point the poor soul caught up with them, and the bums were off to Hawaii. Their crew (the boys' chorus) was entertained by two native "Girls" (Dale Wright and Chris Traicoff). The whole cast then filed on stage for the grand finale in which they sang "This is My Country" and "God Bless America."

Juniors Gain Valuable Knowledge And Experience

The officers of the Junior Class are Dave Mead, President; Janet Ginther, Vice-President; Kathleen Ewing, Secretary; Barbara Taylor, Treasurer; and Caryl Hornbaker and Jim Feaster, Student Council Representatives.

The Class of '63 has had a busy year preparing for the future. Developing salesmanship and breaking past records, the Juniors started things off with an over-whelmingly successful magazine campaign in which they netted $1,100. Later came the selection of class rings. The new year brought another project—the Junior Class Play. "Seventeenth Summer," a story of young love, was presented March 30 and, was a complete success. With spring came many chances for the Juniors to use their artistic talents. The Prom with its fabulous decorations was scarcely past when the Juniors were called upon to decorate and usher for baccalaureate and graduation. After such a grueling year the class of '63 was certainly ready for the well-deserved vacation, but next fall will find them eagerly awaiting that glorious Senior year.

We Came, We Saw, We Conquered

Doric columns entwined with ivy, huge golden grapes, and a multi-colored water fountain formed the atmosphere for the "Roman Holiday" theme of the Junior-Senior Prom. Entrance for the premiere was made through a Roman temple and into the banquet hall. Golden-crowned sophomores helped serve. Dancing to the music of Rich Ring's Orchestra followed the banquet. At 11:00 p.m. members of the Rotary arrived to take the group to their homes to change into casual clothing for the after-Prom party held at the Recreation Center. Adorning the walls of the center were authentic metal shields and helmets. Miniature chariots and drivers formed a centerpiece for each table, and another color-changing water fountain added atmosphere. Providing music for the after-Prom activities was the Wayne White Combo.

The end of a perfect evening.

End Of Year Banquets Honor Class Of 1962 Seniors Receive Awards, Special Recognitions

Tom Arnold accepts his scholarship from Mr. Harold Feaster, President of the Rotary Club.

With the end of the school year, many seniors were honored by the various community organizations. The Business and Professional Women of Bushnell awarded the distinction of "Senior Girl Most Likely to Succeed" to Kathleen Murphy. At a banquet honoring the senior girls, a scholarship from B&PW was given to Kathy Steelman. Tom Arnold was awarded a scholarship at the Rotary Club Banquet held for the entire Senior Class. Many other seniors were given special recognition by the school and the community. Among them were Kathleen Murphy, Valedictorian; Bud Hobbs, Salutatorian; and Fred Bertolino for his appointment to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

The Senior Class enjoys the Rotary Club banquet.

Life at B-PC means many different things to the many who are a part of it. It means scholastic achievement, extracurricular activities, and participation in sports. Also, it means a stepping-stone to success; and a place for hard work and good times, heartaches and happiness. We have experienced all these things this year. We hope we have been successful in preserving them for you.

We wish to express our most sincere appreciation to:

Mr. Lawson and the faculty for their cooperation and understanding.

Miss Alessi, our hardworking sponsor (who had two deadlines to meet—June 1 and June 2!) for her unselfish interest in the Beta Pi Sigma.

Mr. John Murphy Shaw, our patient representative from Taylor Publishing Company, for his guidance.

Mrs. Armstrong for her assistance and aid with our many problems.

The Speech and Journalism Class and the other students for their help with the copy.

Mr. Tichenor for his portrait and organization pictures.

Pinky,
Don't you dare
send me your awful propaganda while I'm so happy being away from you! Ha ha! Lots of luck this year - you'll probably need it! Harriet
